APPROBATION EXAM

Non-medical health professions

- A certified copy of evidence of foreign education (diploma, certificate, attestation or report card) providing information on the length of study, the extent of theoretical and practical training, the knowledge and skills acquired during the course of study and the activities for which the applicant has been authorised,
- A copy of the marriage certificate or other proof of change of surname (if the applicant has changed surname).

Successful completion of the tests is a prerequisite for passing the second practical part of the exam.

Each candidate must submit an "Information on the intention to take the practical part of the approbation examination" (application) to the Ministry of Health.

Attach the following documents to the application for the practical part of the examination (documents must be in Czech or accompanied by an officially certified translation):

- Confirmation of passing the written part of the exam.
 - Original or certified copy of proof of medical fitness.
 - Original or certified copy of proof of good character (clean criminal record).
 - Payment of the administrative fee of CZK 500.
2. Practical part of the exam (professional practice) - it is performed at a health service provider or at a social service provider for 14 - 60 days (depending on the field).
- The provider appoints an evaluator to provide expert supervision to the applicant. The assessor shall evaluate in writing, after the practical part of the certification examination, whether the practical part of the certification examination has been passed or not.

Successful completion of the practical part is a prerequisite for passing the third oral part of the certification examination at the earliest possible date.

No application shall be made for an oral professional examination. After checking the completed assessment and successfully completing the practical part, the NCO NZO will send you an invitation with instructions.

3. Oral part of the examination - Verification of professional knowledge in front of the examination board, including the ability to express oneself in the Czech language.
